

Supervising Dangerous Offenders

(A Legal – Criminological Approach)

Author:

Hossein Ayargar, Ph.D.

Translation:

Ali Mohammadi Darabad

Amin Police University

1397

Amin Police University

Supervising Dangerous Offenders

(A Legal – Criminological Approach)

Author: Hossein Ayargar, Ph.D.

Translation: Ali Mohammadi Darabad

Scientific Editor: Zahra Nozen, Ph.D.

First Published: Winter 1397

Tirage: 500

Price: 300000 Rial

Address: Quarterly Office, Deputy of Research, Amin Police University,
West Hemmat Highway, Tehran, Iran

Tel: 48931293

سرشناسه: ایارگر، حسین، ۱۳۵۰ - Ayargar, Hossein
عنوان قراردادی: نظارت بر مجرمان خطرناک (با رویکرد حقوقی - جرم‌شناسی) / انگلیسی
عنوان و نام پدیدآور: Supervising dangerous offenders (a legal – criminological approach)
ترجمه: Ali Mohammadi Darabad / author Hossein Ayargar (approach)
مشخصات نشر: تهران: دانشگاه علوم انتظامی امین، ۱۳۹۷ = ۲۰۱۸ م. / مشخصات ظاهری: ۲۰۰ ص.
شابک: ۹۷۸-۶۰۰-۳۶۳-۲۸۲-۰ / وضعیت فهرست نویسی: فیا / یادداشت: انگلیسی
موضوع: بزهکاران خشن / موضوع: Violent offenders
موضوع: بزهکاران و مجرمین / موضوع: Criminals
موضوع: پلیس - نظارت و مراقبت / موضوع: Police supervision
شناسه افزوده: محمدی درآباد، علی، ۱۳۶۲ - مترجم / شناسه افزوده: Mohammadi Darabad, Ali
شناسه افزوده: دانشگاه علوم انتظامی امین / شناسه افزوده: Amin Police University
رده بندی کنگره: HV ۱۳۹۷۶۱۳۳ ۹۷۸۰۴۹۲ / رده بندی دیویی: ۱۵/۳۶۴
شماره کتابشناسی ملی: ۵۱۵۶۴۵۱

Table of Contents

INTRODUCTION	11
PART 1: SUPERVISING DANGEROUS OFFENDERS: CONCEPTS AND PRINCIPLES	17
CHAPTER 1: Explaining The Concepts
Argument 1: Basic Concepts	18
Section 1: The Concept of Supervision
Paragraph 1: The literal meaning of 'supervision'	19
Paragraph 2: The technical meaning of supervision	19
Section 2: Comparing the Term Supervision with Similar Terms	20
Argument 2: Types of Supervision in Criminal Science	21
Section 1: Types of Supervision in Terms of the Subject of Supervision	22
Section 2: Types of Supervision in Terms of Purpose	22
Section 3: Types of Supervision in Terms of Time of Supervision	23
Paragraph 1: Pretrial Supervision	23
Paragraph 2: On-trial Supervision	24
Paragraph 3: Post-Trial Supervision	26
Section 4: Types of Supervision in terms of location	30
Section 5: Types of Supervision in terms of the Instruments and Technologies	30
Argument 3: The Distinctions Between Security Supervision and Preventive Measures (Situational – Technical – Technological) of Crime	32
Achievements	36
CHAPTER 2: Principles of Supervising Offenders	37
Argument 1: The power and political authority of the government as the basis for supervising dangerous offenders	39
Section 1: Supervision in Foucault-Bentham's View	40
Section 2: Supervision in Orwell's View	44
Argument 2: Social Control, the Basis for Supervising Offenders	46
Section 1: Types of Social Control	48
Paragraph 1: Formal and Informal Controls	49
Paragraph 2: Internal and External Controls	49

Paragraph 3: Mandatory and Persuasive Control	53
Paragraph 4: Direct and Indirect Control	53
Paragraph 5: Personal and Collective Control	53
Paragraph 6: Control in Primary and Secondary Groups	54
Section 2: Social control in practice	54
Paragraph 1: Social Control Enforcers	54
Paragraph 2: Social Controlling Executive Guarantee	55
Paragraph 3: Social Control Barriers	56
Section 3: Social Control Theories	56
Paragraph 1: Social Control in Durkheim's View (1858-1917)	56
Paragraph 2: Social Control in Travis Hirschi's View	57
Paragraph 3: Social Control in Nye's view	63
Paragraph 4: Theory of Deterrence	66
Argument 3: Social protection (maintaining social order) as a basis for supervision	68
Section 1: patterns of criminal proceedings	68
Paragraph 1: Crime Control Model	69
Paragraph 2: Due Process Model	70
Paragraph 3: Integrated Models	71
Section 2: Risk Management Approach and Security Criminology	71
Paragraph 1: The Concept of Risk and Dangerousness in Risk-Oriented Criminal Policy	74
Paragraph 2: Offenders from the Perspective of Risk Management Criminal Policy	76
Paragraph 3: The Purposes of Supervising Dangerous Offenders	77
Paragraph 4: The Most Important Objections on the Crime Risk Management Policy	82
Argument 4: The jurisprudential foundations of supervising dangerous offenders	83
Section 1: Family-based supervision and control	84
Paragraph 1: Family and Exercising Supervisory Measures to Prevent Recidivism	85
Paragraph 2: Family responsibilities in the absence of supervision of their members	87
Section 2. Supervision and Social Control based on Social Cooperation	87
Paragraph 1: calling people to goodness and preventing people from evil-doing	89
Paragraph 2: Not Communicating with Muḥārib	94

Section 3: Supervision and Control Based on Public Authority (Governmental-Political)	96
Paragraph 1: Hisbah	96
Paragraph 2: Community Notification and Introduction of Dangerous Offenders	100
ACHIEVEMENTS	102
PART 2: THE CHALLENGES OF SUPERVISING DANGEROUS OFFENDERS	105
CHAPTER 1: Admission of Supervision; Refusing Supervision	107
Argument 1: Obedience in Supervision, its Factors and Challenges	108
Section 1: The importance of the family center in supervising offenders (family-based supervision)	111
Section 2: The role of official supervisory practitioners in achieving supervisory objectives	116
Section 3: Risks of Supervision (for Supervisors)	118
Argument 2: Non-compliancy of Supervision and its legal effects with a comparative approach	119
Section 1: Canada	120
Section 2: America	121
Section 3: Iran	123
Paragraph 1: The executive sanction of refusing supervision in Iran's legislation	123
Paragraph 2: Critical Review	124
Argument 3: Secondary factors affecting the non-compliance with supervision	126
Section 1: The Special Constraints of Supervision	126
Paragraph 1: Supervision in Closed Environment	127
Paragraph 2: Supervision in Open Environment	130
Paragraph 3: Assessment of closed and open environment supervision	132
Section 2: Non-compliance with supervision and Gender	133
ACHIEVEMENTS	134
CHAPTER 2: Supervising Dangerous Offenders: Effects and Challenges	135
Argument 1: Electronic Supervision	136
Section 1: Concept and Evolution	137