ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Honestly, we really lack words to express our appreciation to Dr. Rahmani Sangani of Velayat University, Iranshahr for his insightful guidance, effective feedbacks, and for introducing us into the fascinating world of teacher development. Then, we would like to thank the professors of Urmia University Dr. Gholami, who generously provided us with new insight into the current trends of teaching. Dr. Mohammadi, who presented us a more comprehensive understanding of syllabus design and Dr. Alavi nia who kindly supported us in the process of research in this field .

Finally, since writing the present book needed some practical research, the next group who deserve our gratitude are great pilots, colonel Ruhani, colonel Soltani, and colonel Yarmand who enthusiastically allowed us to investigate some issues for pilots and flight engineering students.
