Preface

This book intends to assist the interested BA students of universityas well as those who are preparing themselves for TEFL entrance exam.

The book consists of fifteen chapters, all of which have the same importance but are sequenced based on the logical rationale of the authors of the book. Within each chapter, students encounter different topics pertinent to the whole subject of the chapter. It has been striven to provide students with anelaborate amount of translation of the texts in Persian.

It is highly recommended that the students first read the lesson's carefully and meticulously, and then check their understanding by going through the items of the questions following each lesson. The compiler of the book decided to classify the items based on the chapters already studied.

Finally, the compiler wishes that this book would be an asset to practicing and prospecting teachers of English who are not even interested in language methodology.

Any work cannot be without faults and mistakes. The compiler implores all readers to pass their invaluable comments recommendations, and even correction to him by the email. You are welcome to pass them to me through: m_hashamdar@yahoo.com.
