INTRODUCTION

A Trip to Alphabetland is an innovative course for any young child learning English and features pupil's book, teacher's notes, in-class exams and multimedia CD (including mp3's, video clips and computer games).

Aims and syllabus

The main aims of this book are to:

- produce good language habits so that the students use English correctly.
- make learning fun through likeable characters, colourful pictures, games and exercises.
- help students develop confidence in reading and speaking in English, using a good basic range of vocabulary.
- encourage students to work individually.

The syllabus of A Trip to Alphabetland is based on graded structures and vocabulary. Language items have been chosen according to the criteria of frequency, usefulness and simplicity. Through interesting topics A Trip to Alphabetland systematically develops pupil's motivation and skills in listening, speaking and writing.

A step by step teachers' guide which is available enables teachers to support and guide children through the book with detailed lesson plans along with mid-term and final in-class exams provided. You can download the exclusive electronic file from our website (<http://jangal.com/books/ATTATN.pdf>) or by scanning the following QR Code and make copies for classroom use.
