Preface

This book contains theories and practical approaches of how to teach English more efficiently. It is designed mainly to help students majoring in English learn how to become more effective teachers.

This book can be used as a reference and guide for teacher training courses held at language institutes. It can also be used as a textbook for university students majoring in English. Teachers can employ this book as a reference for some courses like Practical Teaching. This book can also serve as a self-study guide for those who want to improve their teaching skills and get ready to teach at language institute or schools. However, because some parts are practical and need elaboration, teaching, monitoring and feedback, it's advisable to use this book in a classroom context supervised by a professional teacher.

It's hoped that this book will help both tutors and tutees and that it will provide insight, tap potentials and latent talents and develop practical skills necessary to turn a student or a novice teacher into a professional and tactful one.
