Introduction

English Master is a comprehensive reference for those students who are interested in learning how to manage their own foreign language learning affairs. Developing and mastering language skills, for instance, seems to be a complicated task for the students at colleges and universities since the appropriate strategies have not been applied so far.

After a lot of investigations in theory and practice by the authors they decided to design this very practical guide in order to contribute the university students to discover and flourish their reserved potentials in this area.

The students are exposed to a lot of informative, interesting, challenging reading and listening passages chosen from authentic sources in order to practice and improve their reading and listening comprehension. Later on, they are evaluated through some exercises which are intended to consolidate the learned material so that they can produce almost the same strategies of using English in practice more efficiently.

The approach behind English Master seems to be according to the most modern schools of thoughts in linguistics, psychology, and teaching methodology. The authors hope that this attitude toward learning apply English in real situations for the enthusiastic learners who enjoy communication as armature candidates, in general, and even for those who are professional in this domain in particular.

Although, the authors have tried their best to make this work perfect, still there might be some shortcomings. Therefore, they would appreciate and welcome the constructive suggestions in case they are sent to: mhoseinzarnegar@gmail.com.
