Introduction

This book is a collection of stories about the lives of the prophets. In rewriting these stories, care was taken to keep the events as close as possible to what has been narrated in the Holy Qur'an. However, in cases where background information was necessary to know the context where the stories happened as in the case of Samuel's story, a number of reliable sources were used to add further information to the stories.

There has also been an attempt to avoid lexical and structural complexities to provide an easy source of reading material for students of English at intermediate and high-intermediate levels. To further help the readers, there is a glossary at the end of the book, which offers simple definitions for some of the difficult words. In addition, there is a guide to the Persian equivalents of the proper names used in the stories at the beginning of the book.

To make the students' reading more purposeful, each story, or each section of longer stories, is followed by a number of comprehension exercises. It is hoped that this collection will not only make readers familiar with the stories of the prophets but also provide them with a pleasant source of reading to improve their English.
