Preface

The book at your disposal is meant to meet the university students' need for the reading activities and vocabulary of general English. In addition to reading activities and vocabulary, some grammar points have been included to facilitate the students' reading ability.

Each unit includes some pre-reading questions which introduce the topic of the whole units. The students may be asked to answer these questions before the lesson. The reading activities are comprised of two reading sections, followed by some reading comprehension exercises. Teachers are suggested to give some time to the students to read the passages silently and do the reading comprehension exercises. After silent reading, the teachers may explain some points about the vocabulary and sentences through translation or explanation. The vocabulary and activities section is meant to practice the vocabulary learned through the unit and to expand it if possible. The grammar focus section teaches the intermediate level grammar through comparison and explanation of the most useful grammar points, which facilitate the students' reading comprehension. The exercises might be assigned to be done at home or in the classroom and corrected by the teacher in the classroom.

Reading Activities for the University Students is intended to provide the university students with some reading opportunities and academic vocabulary through more and more reading activities. Vocabulary is meant to be learned through repetition and practice in various reading passages. Grammar points are the ones occurred in each unit and are a review and revision of the students' high school knowledge.
