Preface

This General English volume is intended to provide the students with an easy access to English reading comprehension through graded lessons.

The bold vocabulary accompanied by the Persian equivalents is to make it easier for the beginners to grasp the meaning of the lessons more easily.

Through answering comprehension questions orally in part A the learner is to improve their spoken skill and, if in written form, their written ability in English as well.

The 'Fill in Blank Section' is to test the vocabulary knowledge studied through the passage, and make it more rooted through repetition.

In part C of each lesson it is aimed to make the learner more familiar with the grammatical parts appearing in each lesson and put them in to practice.

In part D the learner is supposed, through reciting, to test their full grasp of the story and to expand their spoken skill through remembering the main elements of the sentences having appeared in the lesson.
