Who We Are?

We are Thoughtful Method Group (T.M.G).

What Are T.M.G's Goals?

T.M.G would like to focus on the short-term, the medium-term and the long-term goals of a logical and educational system.

We think it is time to reach the conclusion on this very important point that we need a new systematic way to teach, learn English and in the line of its duty T.M.G likes to offer Daily Activities Books using a new method with a wide range of opportunities to those who would like to teach, learn English calculatedly and logically.

T.M.G has considered the practicalities of everyday English and found it its fundamental duty to offer some guidelines how to teach and learn English logically and functionally and tried to offer all the respectful teachers and professors new vision to teach English.

T.M.G intends to give special attention to all the students, encourage and direct them how to focus their minds on studying, learning, teaching, researching, sharing, developing, applying and producing knowledge more effectively in the future.

Everybody has a special mission in this universe

What are the missions of any educational system?

Is it just to teach students something that they did not know before?

We think that the educational system must consider all the educational developments of students as its fundamental mission. If each student manages to get acquainted with his or her mission, he or she may try to accomplish it. We believe that the educational system has a lot of duties and some of them are to enable students to get ready, accept and do different missions including cultural, social, diplomatic and so on;

enable students to get acquainted with hard facts about the world;

enable students to describe the day situation in the world correctly and thoroughly;
